Portfolio commentary

Blockchain Strategies Fund (BSF) provided a February return of +38.30% & +39.16% (USD & EUR Share Classes respectively) and for the 2nd consecutive month outperforms Bitcoin!

February saw the crypto market rally up until the 21st reaching a market cap of $1.75tn only to retrace to $1.35tn by month end (coinmarketcap.com). Bitcoin (BTC) reached a record high of $58,200 before ending the month at $43,800 for a +30% monthly increase. However, the mid-month highs and monthly performance was eroded from Ethereum (ETH) which ended February flat at $1350 and Ripple (XRP) rose and then fell sharply to end the month with a loss of -22% (coinmarketcap.com). Away from the 'industrial or large cap cryptos' we saw Polkadot (DOT) jump over 100% from $15.95 to $33.60 but the leader in our portfolio was Cardano (ADA) with a monthly return of 274% jumping from $0.35 to $1.31.

This month the major gains in our portfolio came from a combination of direct/index tracking exposure to carefully selected basket of cryptocurrencies (including DOT & ADA) as well as our VC/PE Funds with exposure to emerging Decentralised Finance (DeFi) & Non-Fungible Tokens (NFT) projects/coins. We continue to increasing our direct exposure to digital assets with strong fundamental & technical support as well and our exposure to DeFi & the emerging NFT space via our selected VC/PE Funds. Our 'fixed income' type returns focussed on Lending & infrastructure and our allocation to Blockchain related listed companies provide steady single digit returns but we are not increasing allocation to these areas during a time of such bullish market sentiment. We are clearly in the midst of a bull run, with levels of institutional investment never seen before. However, we remain advocates of diversification & due diligence, willing to accept a more balanced performance with reduced volatility.
